The City of Dublin ETB Adult Education Service is a city-wide service structured into five geographical, or regional, areas. Its remit is to provide basic education programmes and guidance to adults who are returning to education.

The range of programmes include:

- Adult Literacy
- Community Education
- ESOL (English for Speakers of Other Languages)
- BTEI (Back to Education Initiative)
- Workplace Basic Education Programmes
- Study Skills for Training Centre Apprentices
- Literacy and Language assignment supports for FET College Students
- Adult Education Guidance and Information

City of Dublin ETB Adult Education Service provides free part-time adult education programmes in adult education and community centres in over 150 locations in Dublin 1-12. This includes adult education centres, community centres, drug recovery support services, homeless services, direct provision centres, migrant support services, Family Resource Centres, primary and secondary school communities, supports to the Traveller community, prison support services and parish halls. We also provide a wide range of vocational skills programmes in skills areas including Early Learning and Care, Healthcare, Business Administration and Social Studies.

Learners can avail of accredited and non-accredited learning opportunities and, due to our model of continuous intake, can join a programme throughout the academic year. The Adult Education Service also provides free, impartial and confidential educational information and guidance to adults on these programmes, as well as to adults living in the regional areas, who are exploring their educational opportunities.
